

Here is the question sheet for getting your testimonial featured. If you would like to have your opinion shared, please fill in the questions (as many as you would like) below. If you are really passionate about a certain topic, focus on that! If your testimony is chosen, we will contact you as soon as possible. If you feel uncomfortable answering any parts of these questions, then you don't have to answer those parts. We guarantee 100% respect of your privacy desires (outlined at end of this document), and will only include what you want to be included.

When finished, please send this in the form of a PDF to votingnextgen@gmail.com

ALSO, you do not have to hand in this exact document, if you would like to make your life easier, just copy and paste these questions into your own document and fill them out. Then, you can download it as a PDF and share it with us.

Thanks so much for taking the time to complete this! Remember, you don't have to answer every single part of every single question, just as much and as many as you would like to share your opinion on.

*Privacy: list here any privacy requirements you would like included with regards to your testimonial... (anonymous, party preference, etc). It is completely up to you what aspects you would like to keep private and what you would like to share:

Why do we ask for this information? Certain identifiers such as party preference and age can act as great comparison points between people's policy views and demographic affiliations. We also hope that it can shed light on the idea that despite the emphasis on political division we see today, there is a lot of common ground that we are capable of walking on and agreeing upon. For example, a democrat and republican having the same view on a policy reflects the idea that there is a common thought among Americans with regards to specific issues.
